Friday, May 4, 2018

The Conference Center at OCLC
6600 Kilgour Place, Dublin, Ohio

If you've been to Garden Party before, you already know why it's a favorite event among arts supporters.

With fine food and beverages, live entertainment, an incredible silent auction and more, it's hard not to have a wonderful time at this beloved annual gala. While our past Garden Parties have been excellent, our 2018 event is shaping up to be our best yet. Here are our top 5 reasons that this year's Garden Party is a can't-miss evening out.

1. Top-Caliber Live Entertainment

Doc Robinson cheekily describes their sound as "Backyard BBQ Breakup Music," and Impose Magazine has called their latest album "an insanely catchy ray of sunshine." This super-talented duo will be performing all evening in a setting that feels like an exclusive, private concert.

2. New Silent Auction Items

Have you ever wanted to take a luxury cruise down the Rhine or Danube rivers with Viking River Cruises? Are you a thrill-seeker who would like to try zip lining? Is beautiful, one-of-a-kind custom jewelry more your style? All of these things and more are up for grabs in this year's silent auction.

3. New Restaurants

Along with some returning favorites, several new restaurants will be serving up some of their best menu items at this year's event. Be sure to stop and grab a bite to eat from newbies Fadó Irish Pub, Fukuryu Ramen, Harvest Pizzeria and Kilwins. Did we mention that unlimited food is included with your ticket?

4. Unlimited Beverages

Need we say more? Your Garden Party ticket includes unlimited glasses of wine from Deutsch Family Wine & Spirits and unlimited beer from Great Lakes Brewing Company. For those who don't drink wine or beer, be sure to grab a cup of local craft coffee from The Coffee Mess or a sparkling water from the bars.

5. A Worthy Cause

Dublin Arts Council has continued to emerge as a thought leader and trendsetter in the arts. With socially-focused gallery exhibitions, the launch of a new multicultural festival in Dublin, excellent arts education initiatives and more, DAC is stronger than ever. Every dollar raised from the Garden Party goes directly to arts and arts education programming to continue to provide world-class arts experiences for the central Ohio community and beyond.
